FOUR MILES AN HOUR FOR AUTOMOBILES

Allows Buggies to Whip Up and Get Out of the Way of the Red Devil.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] CHAPEL HILL, N. C., September 29.—This audacious and learned little village, this village because it is the seat of the University of North Carolina, does not like the idea of having its decorum disturbed by the heathenish and very modern automobiles, and its doing what it can to keep them out. The spectacular professors who walk the long, shady avenues in the cool afternoon are thrown into fits of indignation when an insane chauffeur speeds his car by and leaves behind a trail of dust and a prolonged whiff of gasoline.

And then the settled students that draw the comfortable phaetons of the professors' wives prick their ears and take fright at the first glimpse of a white or a green or a red devil. This last fact caused one member of the faculty, who is a village Alderman, to introduce and have passed an ordinance that makes it a misdemeanor for an auto to exceed a speed of four miles an hour within the corporate limits. The speed for vehicles is six miles an hour.

"Why did you make it four miles?" the professor-alderman was asked.

"For this reason," he replied: "If a vehicle goes one of them coming it can turn, whip up and keep out of its way without violating the law; and if it hears one of them coming, why, of course, it can keep out of its way by driving straight ahead."

The ordinance is proving a success.

A WHEAT COUNTY.

Scott Paying Much Attention to Wheat This Season.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] GATE CITY, Va., September 29.—Notwithstanding the difficulty in securing farm labor, owing to the large amount of railroad building in progress, the farmers of Scott county are making an effort to put in the largest wheat crop this year in the history of the county. More fertilizer has been sold here already this fall than ever before, and every possible day plows are running from early morning till dark eve. It has been found that much of the land of Scott county can easily be made to produce twenty bushels of wheat per acre, and a great deal of it even more. The county, therefore, should produce a considerable surplus of wheat. For several years, however, the balance has been on the other side of the ledger, a condition that the progressive farmers will not permit to continue. There are many fine flour mills in the county but they have had to import wheat or stand idle a considerable part of the time.
